The baccalaureate and master's degree programs in nursing at National American University are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, One Dupont Circle, NW, Suite 530, Washington DC 20036, (202) 887-6791.

Academics

Block Transfer Policy

National American University's block transfer policy (General Education Equivalency) applies to all bachelor's degree programs with the exception of the following: Athletic Training, Nursing, and the Applied Management program offered in Kansas. All transfer course work must be college level (1000-level or above).

Block transfer does not apply to students residing or attending Minnesota or Texas campuses. If students were eligible for block transfer on enrollment, a subsequent change of degree program request will initiate the reevaluation of eligibility for block transfer in the new degree program.

Students who have earned a bachelor's or associate degree, regardless of the type, with the equivalent of at least 50 quarter credit hours of general education courses, meet the requirements for National American University's general education core area available for block transfer.

Students who have earned an Associate of Applied Science (AAS), Associate of General Studies degree or a technical Bachelor of Applied Science degree from an accredited institution may be eligible for block transfer in the university's Bachelor of Science in Applied Management and Bachelor of Science in Applied Information Technology degree programs if sufficient general education transfer credits are available.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy

Completion Rate

- In addition to maintaining a minimum CGPA, a student must successfully complete 66.67% of all credit hours attempted, including those attempted in remedial and English as a Second Language (ESL) courses.
- Credits transferred from another institution are included as credits attempted and completed for the purpose of calculating completion rate.
- The grades of A, B, C, D, and S indicate successful course completion for purposes of this policy. The grades of F, I, W, WF, and U indicate a lack of successful course completion.

Course Descriptions

AC3450 - Federal Income Tax II - 4.5 Credits

This course is a continuation of the study of federal income tax law. It focuses on the study of federal tax and its application to corporate taxpayers. The course explains the differences in corporate formations; analyzes the corporate tax formula; examines the effects of distributions, acquisitions, and reorganizations; and then focuses on partnership, gift and estate tax considerations. Case studies involve preparation of tax returns.

Prerequisite: AC3400/EN1300

Delivery: on campus and online

CI3010 - Linux - 4.5 Credits

This course is a study of the Linux operating system from the perspective of a system power user and administrator. Responsibilities for successful administration, installation, and implementation of a typical Linux distribution are covered. Topics covered in the class include desktop environments, user accounts and security, resource and application management, network administration, and virtualization concepts and scenarios.

Prerequisite: CI2430

Delivery: on campus and online

CJ1500 - Criminological Theory - 4.5 Credits

This course presents the historical development of the major theoretical schools of criminological explanations for crime and criminal behavior. The major assumptions, policies, and critiques of the classical and positivist theory schools are presented. New evolutions in crime and criminological theories are discussed.

Prerequisite: CJ1000

Delivery: on campus and online

CJ3400 - Constitutional Law - 4.5 Credits

This course will examine the basics of Constitutional Law from its birth to current applications. The history of the Constitution will be discussed, as well as the two major applications of Constitutional Law: governmental powers and individual liberties. The student will be introduced to a variety of legal terms, as well as become familiar with major cases that affect the criminal justice practitioner today.

Prerequisite: CJ2100 and EN1300

Therapeutic areas covered include the gastrointestinal, renal, respiratory, and endocrine systems; plus hormone, topical ophthalmic, and otic agents. Lab activities are embedded in the course. (3.5 Lecture credit + 0.5 Lab credit = 4.5 contact hours)

Prerequisite: RX1000/RX1500/RX2500/SC1221 or SC1222D

Delivery: on campus

RX2700 - Drug Therapeutics III with Lab - 3 Credits

This course provides students detailed information on the therapeutic use and side effects of prescription medications, nonprescription medications, and alternative therapies. For each medication studied, students learn the brand and generic name, standard pronunciation, and dosage forms, and routes of administration. Therapeutic areas covered include the cardiac system, plus muscle relaxants, narcotic analgesics, anti-inflammatory drugs, immunizations, and neoplastic agents. This course teaches the American Heart Association's cardiopulmonary resuscitation of adults, children, and infants. Safety concerns and disaster responses in the health care environment are explored. Lab activities are embedded in the course. (1.5 Lecture credit + 1.5 Lab credit = 4.5 contact hours)

Prerequisites: RX1000/RX1500/SC1221 or SC1222D

Delivery: on ground
